

Future (will-future) 6e_fut_01_L

1. You will be in Rome tonight.
2. I will/shall know the result in a week.
3. She will remember her tenth birthday.
4. I hope he will arrive in time for breakfast.
5. If I drop this glass it will break.
6. I will/shall see my father tomorrow.
7. We will go there again next year.
8. I hope she will remember to buy that cake.
9. Tom will catch the 9 o'clock train.
10. I will/shall never forget my teacher.

Future-mix (will-future) 6e_fut_02_L

1. I will / shall know the result in a week.
2. You will be in Rome tonight.
3. You must run otherwise you will not / won't catch the bus.
4. He will not / won't believe you.
5. Perhaps he will arrive in time for dinner.
6. If I drop this glass, it will break.
7. Do you think she will visit me?
8. You will have time to help me tomorrow?
9. I hope she will remember to buy some bread.
10. I think you will not / won't need a passport for England.

"going-to" or "will"? 6e_fut_03_L

Put in the correct form of "to be going to" or "will".

1. Jack's parents have decided to give him a pet. They are going to buy him a budgie.
2. "Listen, David. Perhaps there will be a good cowboy film on TV this afternoon."
3. -Where does William live now, Winston?"
- "In Birmingham. Look, I will show you. I've got a picture postcard."
4. Sara is looking forward to the 15th. She will be thirteen then. Her parents are going give her a new mobile.
5. The children hope they will have a dog next time their neighbour's dog will babies.
6. When Gary lives in Liverpool, he is going go to the football matches every weekend.
7. Andy will clean his bike. It will look better then.
8. - "What are your plans for tomorrow, Bernie?"
- "Jason and I, we are going to the movies in the evening."

“going-to” or “will”? 6e_fut_04_L

Put in the correct form of “to be going to” or “will”.

1. Brandon hopes he will have a bike, when he has enough money to buy one.
2. When Nigel lives in London, he is going to eat Indian food every weekend.
3. Mr. Cameron will wash his car. It will look much cleaner then.
4. - “Theresa, what are your plans for next week?” - “Sara and I, we are going to make a trip to Dover.”
5. I have decided to give Paul a game for his birthday . I am going to buy him “Monopoly”.
6. “Listen, Duncan. Next Saturday there will be a big football match in Anfield Road.”

7. Jo lives now in Edinburgh. He is going to send me a bagpipe.
8. Next week Brigitte will be thirteen years old. Her parents are going to give her a new mobile for her birthday.

‘Going to’ or ‘will’? 6e_fut_05_L

1. Will the weather be fine tomorrow?
2. I hope it will not rain.
3. So you are going to have your birthday party in the garden.
4. There will be a barbecue, lots of cola and a huge fish cake.
5. Is your mother going to make a fish cake?
6. Yes, there will be lots of shrimps and oysters in it.
7. Great! I think will not eat that cake. I hate fish.
8. If you don't eat that. There will be spaghetti, too.

‘Going to’ or ‘will’? 6e_fut_06_L

1. When will your plane leave for America?
2. How long are you going to stay there?
3. Who are you going to visit?
4. When will you come back?
5. Will anybody go with you?
6. Will you be nervous?

will or going to? 6e_fut_07_L

1. We are going to have some very nice strawberries.
2. Okay, I will take some.
3. I am not going to take the car to the garage.
4. I am going to repair it myself.
5. Do you have to carry so much food?
Yes, we are going to camp and we are going to cook our own meals.
6. I am not ready yet. That's OK. I will wait.
7. I have bought some paint.
I am going to paint the living-room and kitchen this weekend.
8. What you are you going to do with this ladder?
This weekend I am going to repair the roof of my house.
9. You will buy this dress after all these weeks?
10. Yes, I think I will buy it.
11. Where are the children?
They are out, but they are going to be back at 6 o'clock.

will-future or going to-future? 6e_fut_08_L

I am going to have a big party for my 12th birthday in July. Of course July is holiday time and so my best friend will not be there. Mum says I am going to be allowed to stay up till 11 o'clock. I am going to do some new games with my friends. But I will have to ask my dad to help me.

will or going to-future? 6e_fut_09_L

Copy and put in the correct tense.

Peter: 'Next year we are going to go to Spain for our holidays.'

Susan: Great, super, I will come with you.'

The sky is very dark. I think it is going to rain in some minutes.

Peter: Tomorrow we are going to fly to London.'

Susan: Maybe, perhaps I will visit you there.'

Peter: I think our English lesson will be great today.'

Susan: Yes, our teacher is going to tell us something about England.'

“Will” future/”going-to” future? 6e_fut_10_L

On the telephone:

- This is Ian.

- Hello Ian. This is Gary speaking. I've just finished my homework. Can't we to the park to play football

- Well, I'll have to learn the French vocabulary first. I think I'll be ready to leave by half past four. But at quarter to four Dad and I are going to drive to the building centre and buy some tools. So there won't be much time to play football.

- Can't you ask your dad to drive us to the park?

- O.K. I will ask him. But listen. Will you bring your ball?

- Of course.

- That's fine.

- I'm going to bring something to drink, too.

- So I'll have to bring my bottle.

- O.K. I'll tell our other friends that we're going to play football this afternoon. I hope they all will come.

The next week 6e_fut_11

Complete the sentences. Use will or going to.

Lucy: I think the weather will be fine tomorrow.

So I'll go swimming.

Philipp: Monica will be eleven on Saturday.

I think we'll have a great party.

Lucy: I'm going to clean the cat's basket tomorrow. It's so dirty.

Allen: My mum and I, we're going to buy a new desk for my computer.

Jo: I'm sure we'll find a nice toy for our dog.

Ben: "Susan and I, we're going to visit uncle Tom in London."

Mr. Pearson: I'm going to wash my taxi. It'll look much nicer then.

Nick: I'm sure we'll find a nice ball for Barker.