

1. Gerund or infinitive? e7_inf_ger_01_L

Gerund or infinitive? Add the preposition, if necessary.

1. Today we will have to write a very difficult class test.
2. On Saturday she would like to go to an Indian restaurant and (to) have a hot spicy meal.
3. Joe dreams of being the headmaster of the GBG and of commanding all the teachers.
4. You have no reason to be angry with me.
5. She would love to see/seeing you again next weekend.
6. They are not afraid of visiting/to visit the haunted castle in the dark.
7. Smoking is not good for your health.
8. He was not able to start his car when he wanted to go to work.
9. Yasmin is famous for chewing chewing-gum without moving her mouth.
10. Children, you have a choice of going to the Movie Park or having a nice morning at school.
11. Running is good for your health.
12. They tried to find a hotel when they had arrived in Paris.
13. Svenja enjoys talking for hours without any break.
14. Children, what do you prefer? Going to bed or being sent out into the rain.
15. It is no use spending all the money on sweets.
16. They look forward to seeing you again next week.